Foreword

No other spot on earth quite equals the splendor and magnitude of wealth and natural beauty as does our own province. It seemed only right therefore to portray the 1949 Evergreen and Gold against a background of Alberta's Natural Resources. The windswept prairies, the surging streams, the rugged mountains, and the blackened oil derricks are a fitting compliment to the new era on our campus.

As we remember the things at hand—crowded Tuck, the many coffee sessions, and the people we knew . . . may we also remember the beauty and power which surrounds us.

PRESIDENT ROBERT NEWTON,
M.C., B.S.A., M.Sc., Ph.D., D.Sc., LL.D., F.A.I.C., F.R.S.C:

Alberta's Natural Resources

Natural resources, as the name implies, were not acquired by our own efforts, but are a trust from heaven. The richer our resources, the greater our responsibility for using them wisely & well.

The people themselves are our fundamental resource: without them all the others would be fallow. Stemming from many lands, Albertans must cultivate unity of purpose in the application of diverse talents to the economic and cultural enrichment of our heritage.

This good Alberta has some of the best land in the world. With judicious husbandry, it can support our growing population in generous comfort, and contribute to the support of millions elsewhere. Underneath the land there are huge reservoirs of coal, oil, and natural gas, potential power for the industrialization needed to balance our agriculture. Aboveground are forests and streams, ready to contribute not only timber and fish, and water for power and irrigation, but also beauty and sport.

Truly it is "a land of hills and valleys, and drinketh water of the rain of heaven: a land which the Lord thy God careth for" (Deut. 11: 11-12). In using science and technology to develop our great resources, let it be our care to preserve natural beauty, and to create a community notable for its cultural and spiritual qualities. Material progress will then follow of its own accord.

GEORGE FREDERICK McNALLY,

GEORGE FREDERICK McNALLY, M.A., LL.D.,
Chancellor

Dr. McNally received his B.A. in Traffics from the University of New Brunswick in 1900 and his M.A. from Alberta in 1911. His post-graduate studies were pursued at Columbia University over a period of years from 1914 to 1920. He was given the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws at the U. of A. in 1946. From 1918 to 1935 he was Supervisor of Schools for Alberta, and in 1935 he was made Alberta's Deputy Minister of Education. He was appointed Chancellor of the University of Alberta in 1946. Despite his busy career, Dr. McNally has found time to bring up four children, three girls and one boy.

The Chancellor of the University is the Chairman of the Senate and ex-officio member of the Board of Governors. He confers all degrees, for he is the senior officer of the University, the President and the Chairman being junior to him. The office is a traditional one, arising in Europe, where he is called upon to deliver one lecture a year. This might be an interesting idea to establish.

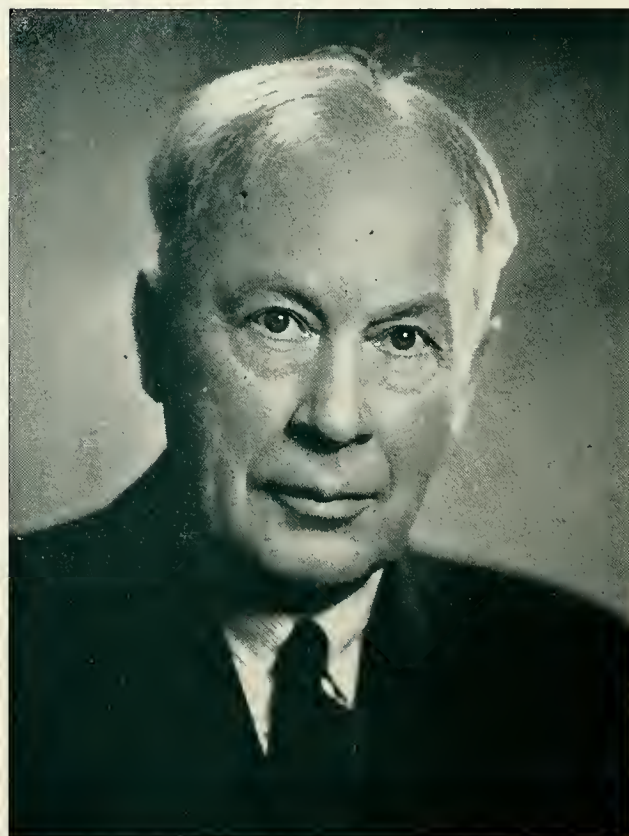

THE HONORABLE MR. JUSTICE HAROLD
HAYWARD PARLEE, K.C.,

Chairman of the Board of Governors

The Hon. Mr. Justice Parlee is a graduate of Mt. Allison University of New Brunswick in the class of '98. He attended St. John's Law School and received his B.C.L. in 1900. In 1901 he was admitted to the bar in New Brunswick, and in 1941 became Chairman of the Board of Governors of the University of Alberta. He was appointed as Judge of the Supreme Court in 1944 and became a member of the Appellate Division in 1946, also receiving the degree of LL.D. from Mt. Allison University the same year.

Justice Parlee has three sons, all of whom graduated from the U. of A., one as a lawyer, one, a mining engineer, and one, a doctor practicing in Edmonton.

The Chairman of the Board of Governors is, by statute, appointed by the government. He presides at all meetings and is a member of the executive, thereby being active in all administrative affairs.

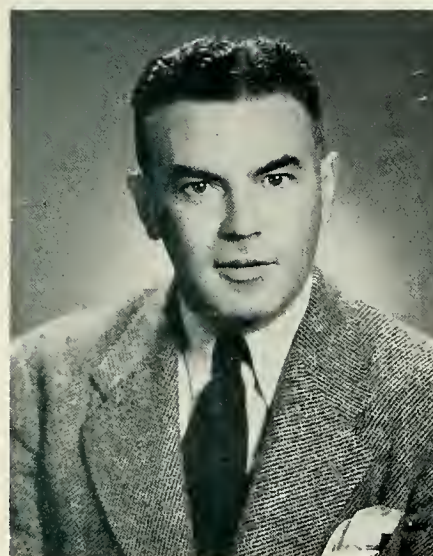

THE HON. MR. JUSTICE PARLEE,
B.A., B.C.L., LL.D.

WALTER HUGH JOHNS,
Assistant to the President

Dr. Johns graduated from the University of Western Ontario, in London, in 1930, after which he lectured in Victoria College, University of Toronto. Continuing his studies in Classics, Dr. Johns received his Doctor of Philosophy from Cornell in 1934. From 1934 to 1938 he taught at Waterloo College, and then came to the U. of A. Other than his work here, Dr. Johns is kept very busy with two little girls, aged seven and five.

The actual duties of this position are indefinable, although there is never a dull moment. Dr. Johns is busy all day with odd jobs, which change from day to day, depending on the circumstances. At the moment he is editing publicity of all kinds, also is arranging for the visit of Prime Minister St. Laurent to the campus on April 11, which gives some idea of the unending variety involved.

DR. W. H. JOHNS,
Executive Assistant to the President

GEOFFREY BRADFORD TAYLOR,
Registrar

Mr. Taylor is a graduate of the U. of A., having received his B.Sc. in 1923 and his M.Sc. in 1925, majoring in Physics. He was appointed as Registrar in the fall of 1923, and has seen many changes in over 25 years of service. In the First World War, he served in the 31st Overseas Battalion and was a prisoner of war for the last six months of 1918. Of his four grown-up children, three are graduates of U. of A. and the fourth is a Registered Nurse.

All the academic activities of the students are Mr. Taylor's prime concern. He follows their careers from the moment of registering to the final "cum laude". Adequate records are kept by the large staff under Mr. Taylor's watchful eye, for he looks after admissions, scholarships, records and examinations, and all the ramifications arising therefrom. He is also responsible for carrying out examination arrangements between the University and a large number of professional societies which have contracts with the U. of A., such as the Association of Physicians and Surgeons.

MR. G. B. TAYLOR,
Registrar

Bursar—JOHN MACLEAN WHIDDEN

Mr. Whidden graduated from the U. of A. with a B.Comm. in 1928. Before enlisting, he worked with the Alberta Wheat Pool, and when in the Air Force was an Accountant Officer in training schools all across Canada. He was Squadron Leader on retirement, and then came to the University as Bursar on January 1st, 1948. Mr. Whidden has two big boys of seven and ten, who may grace Con Hall in the future.

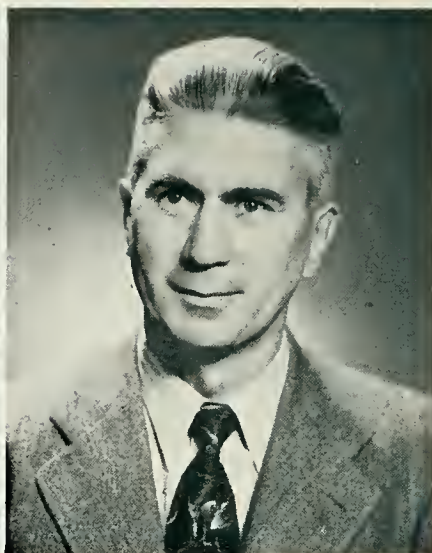

Mr. Whidden's position is that of Business Manager and Comptroller of the University. He and his staff look after estimating, and control the budget for all University activities. In this position Mr. Whidden is also Secretary of the Board of Governors.

MR. J. M. WHIDDEN,
Bursar

MR. J. W. E. MARKLE,
Alumni Secretary

MR. H. T. SPARBY,
Provost

H. T. SPARBY, Provost

Mr. Sparby received his B.Sc. in Arts from the University of Alberta in 1933, and his M.A. in Education in 1939. Before undertaking the position of Provost for the U. of A. in 1947, he was with the Department of Education in Alberta for seven years as an inspector of public and high schools.

The Provost is the member of the administrative staff who interests himself in student activities on the campus, and acts on committees which are related to these activities. In regard to this angle, Mr. Sparby is given invaluable help by Mrs. Sparby, who accompanies him to all functions.

Discipline, which is often thought to be the Provost's main concern, plays a very minor role. Mr. Sparby keeps the path cleared of difficulties, and so far he has never had any major problems. The students are encouraged to govern themselves as much as possible in this matter. Therefore, the Provost acts as a liaison between the staff and the students.

JOHN WILLIAM EVANS MARKLE, Alumni Secretary

Mr. Markle first attended this University for the term 1914-15, but then joined the Infantry, going overseas with the 63rd Battalion from Edmonton. It was not until 1937 that he received his B.A. here, specializing in English, History and Languages. Until coming to the U. of A. as Alumni Secretary in 1946, Mr. Markle was a teacher in Alberta for thirty years, fifteen of which were spent in Camrose as Principal. He has four married children, his eldest son having graduated from the U. of A. last year, under D.V.A. He received his B.A., and is continuing with Post-Graduate work in Journalism, at Ottawa.

As Secretary of the Alumni Association, Mr. Markle is also Secretary-Treasurer of the Friends to the University, and Secretary of the Memorial Scholarship Fund. He edits the "New Trail" as well, which is a quarterly U. of A. magazine. Through this magazine and other ways, the association acts as a liaison between the University and its graduates. Branches have been established throughout the Dominion, all of which have their own social functions. Another aspect of the association is the files, which contain data pertaining to every graduate of the U. of A. Through the newspapers and so on, these are kept up-to-date and the whereabouts of every one is known.

DONALD CAMERON,

Director of the Department of Extension

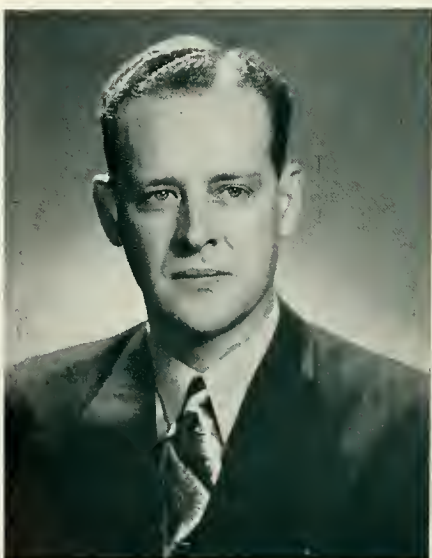

Graduating from the U. of A. with a B.Sc. in Agriculture, Mr. Cameron was appointed as Director of the Extension Department on the day of his graduation in 1930, receiving his M.Sc. in 1934. During the war, he was in charge of educational services for the Canadian Legion in the Alberta Command, but when the Army wanted to take over, the U. of A. would not relinquish him. Although he rules his own department, Mr. Cameron maintains that the "boss" at home is a small daughter of four.

The Extension Department organizes all extra-mural educational activities of the U. of A., giving public lectures, short courses, demonstrations, and distribution of information through bulletins, films, etc. The department owns the largest library of films in Canada, and sponsors thirty-five schools and short courses a year, including the Banff School of Fine Arts. It has been estimated that the University, through its extension services, give some service or other to 800,000 people in Alberta.

ALEXANDER DUNCAN CAIRNS, Assistant Registrar

Also a graduate of the U. of A., Mr. Cairns received his B.A. in 1938. He joined the Air Force in 1942, where he worked with radar, and then was re-mustered to Education while overseas. Discharged from the Air Force, he came to the U. of A., in his present position, in December, 1946. Mr. Cairns has two flourishing future alumni, a daughter of seven and a son, aged one year.

Mr. Cairns assists the Registrar in every phase, as his position implies, but he is most concerned with examinations. He sets up the time tables, arranges for accommodation, and the printing and distributing of the papers. In carrying out these duties, he is Secretary of the Time Table Committee and is also concerned with the Sessional Time Table. All professional examinations are also a part of Mr. Cairns' busy schedule.

In the years ahead of us, after we have left University, we will think often of the time we spent here. No doubt we will have many pleasant memories of hours spent at study, but most of the incidents which will come to mind will concern the hours spent outside the lecture room. The students who have contributed generously of their time and energy to the extra-curricular life on this campus, as so many have done in the past year, have made a significant contribution to all of us.

On behalf of the members of Students' Council, I wish to thank those who have been leaders or workers in the various student activities on this campus. You have made life here very pleasant, and much more profitable than it would otherwise have been. The members of Council join with me in saying that the task of student government at the University of Alberta has been a very pleasant experience.

COUNCIL

Fighting its way through probes, austerity programmes, purges and investigations, the Students' Council of 1948-49 waded through task after task with dogged and sometimes slightly bewildered determination.

Led by capable, popular Bernie Bowlen, the nineteen members of Council worked long and hard solving the routine, and sometimes the not so routine problems, that faced them. Regular meetings often lasted past midnight, and special sessions were regularly called.

Faced with a diminishing revenue and an oversized budget, Council started out in fighting trim. Then came "Romeo and Juliet", Homecoming Weekend, The Mock Parliament, and the problem of the over-zealous and slightly embarrassing "Gateway".

The Students' Union Building, for so long a nebulous vision, became a reality with the moving of the Drill Hall and the construction of the basement. If all goes well, the first stage will be completed by the Fall of 1950.

Finally came "Color Night", when everything was put away and forgotten, the new elections were over, and the new Students' Union President was introduced.

Tevie Miller will head the Students' Union for the following year, and from us to him and his new Council, goes our best wishes for a successful year.

MACLEOD CLUB

The Macleod Club endeavored to make this a year of construction, with progress as the cornerstone, enriched co-operation, social and cultural improvements as supporting beams.

Our blue print, the club's constitution, was revised, incorporating several improvements and additions. One progressive idea became a reality in the organization of an active House Committee. Under the enthusiastic leadership of Irene Ridley, this student group revised the residence rules and regulations, presented them to the student body, and then dealt with all disciplinary problems arising during the year.

Just as a building has many rooms, so have we chosen to build such a structure. A monthly business meeting served as the key turning the latch to an evening's program which we may think of as a theme for each one of the rooms.

The International Room—the I.S.S. World Conference discussed by our U. of A. representatives, Jean Anderson and Ron Manery; a Room of Travel—technicolor slides on "A Trip Through the Rockies", with Dr. Somerville as our guide; a Co-operation Room, which held a successful inter-hospital dance; a Welcome Room, which was the scene of two masquerade parties in honor of the new September and February classes; the Room for Improved School Spirit was furnished with a song contest held at the annual Christmas party. Each class submitted an original song, with the prize going to the class of January '50. Judges suggested that we initiate this practice as a yearly event. The Room for Campus Activity included a nurses' float at the rugby meet, our own Stella Hanna as candidate for Engineers' Queen, and as proof of our discernment our candidate, Dr. Sandy Gilchrist, was crowned King of the Mardi Gras. Our Social Room included the annual Macleod Club formal, the U. of A. Hospital dance, and the Graduation banquet and dance.

A house of many mansions has been our theme of the year. May the Macleod Club continue to build.

Gateway

Under the able direction of Editor-in-Chief Dick Sherbaniuk and Managing Editor Bruce Powe, The Gateway maintained its policy of thorough campus news coverage, supplemented with regular columns from the pens of H. V. Weekes and one Igmo Sadlan. The editorial columns plumped for better student government, more scholarships, reduced fares for student transportation, and anything for the students' benefit.

Although handicapped by a critical staff shortage, The Gateway published numerous six-page editions, carried special features of information and interest on University departments and student life in foreign countries. Canadian University Press dispatches were pressed into continuous service to bring Alberta students university news from across the Dominion.

Black headlines two inches high, extensive picture coverage, and a crusading spirit made the campus news sheet of 1948-49 a twice-weekly reading-must for students.

Continuing the record-breaking circulation lists of the previous year, The Gateway was distributed to all students on the campus, the faculty, graduates all over the world, newspapers throughout Alberta, and provincial and city government officials. In addition, about 250 high schools in the province began receiving Gateways regularly.

Highlight of the publication year was the special Alumni edition. Prepared in preparation for Alumni Homecoming, 9,000 copies rolled off the press and were mailed to alums, in addition to the regular 5,000.

Gateway staffers let their hair down after Christmas and joked their way through the first edition of the New Year. It was acclaimed a success, and The Gatenik was in popular demand for several weeks after publication.

As a grand finale to a year that made Gateway history, the staff took its readers behind the scenes in a pictorial supplement that depicted the job from story and picture ideas to printed page.

As usual, this has been a year of tribulations, but thanks to the blood, sweat and tears of the staff, the 1948-49 edition is "on the street". Since the student registration was lower, thus reducing the revenue, and the costs of printing, engraving and binding remained as high as ever, the task of producing a worthwhile book within the budget has been even more strenuous than before. But Phil and Sheila, with the help of wet towels and copious cups of black coffee, overcame financial difficulties and produced a book which will become a memento of this university year.

in the last few years. Wherever this book travels, to other provinces, other universities and countries, the story of Alberta and its wealth will be carried. The university, being a vital part of the province and influenced by its fortunes, is the appropriate place from which to spread the news, and the Evergreen and Gold has very wisely attempted to do so.

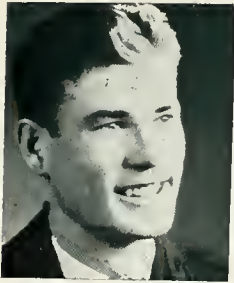

In appreciation, an informal banquet and dance at the Troc was held for the staff in January. It was unanimously agreed that this was a swell "thank you" for a good year's work.

Class History

We are the Class of '49. For most of us, our University days are over forever, and all that remains of our years at Alberta are a roll of sheepskin; a mind filled, we hope, with a miscellany of useful facts, and many memories. Ours, the University of Alberta's largest graduating class, has a history unique in the annals of our Alma Mater, a history which reflects not only our life on the campus, but the life of the world outside our circumscribed existence. And what, looking back along the few years which have just swept by us, have we done?

Some of us were freshmen when the war years were pressing down heavily upon us, and, for us, the first year of University was marked with tension and bleak with uncertainty. But most of us began our student life in a happier time after the peace, in the warm, bright September of 1945, or in that joyous offspring of overcrowding, the January Class of '46. Many of us came from the high schools, eager for excitement, for the new and the unknown. For us, Frosh Week was a round of gaiety, of teas and dances, Tuck dates and smokers. We wore our gold-and-green beanies with teen-age aplomb; we gave the Seniors the respect due their exalted years and office, and we found all that we had expected, and more, at the University of Alberta.

But there were many of us who had long ago left high school, who streamed back from the war in a rushing wave, anxious to sweep the beaches of learning clean and hurry back out on the next tide. We were filled with an urgency to catch up with the long years lost in the service. We spent our Frosh Week, many of us, house-hunting for our families, settling our wives and children in Dawson Creek huts, or meeting our service friends for long, off-campus chats. It took us a while to learn from our younger contemporaries the correct air of nonchalance in wearing a beanie, but they learned from us, as we stood in tedious, never-ending lineups for registration, and for coffee in the crowded cafeteria, the stoicism and patience of experience.

With the example of the younger students before them, the ex-service men among us began to relax, to enjoy the life of the campus, as much as the others did. Together we attended the inter-year plays, the house dances in the Drill Hall (a reminder of service days), the musical club and the symphony. We joined the mixed chorus, the newly-formed Arts and Science Club, the E.S.S., the E.U.S. and Curma. We watched the Golden Bears through the series to their winning of the Hespenny Trophy in hockey, and we saw the Pandas capture the Cecil Rhodes Trophy in intercollegiate basketball.

The spring brought the riotous Club 400 in aid of World Student Relief, the Engineers' raid on Pembina, and the swift reality of examinations. Our Freshman year was over.

As Sophomores we were less intense in our studies, more adept at skipping the classes which interfered with our real education. But D.V.A. was on guard and, although we spent long, untimetabled hours in Tuck and in the "caf" discussing today and tomorrow and tomorrow and tomorrow, we worked. At a round-table discussion by professors of the student of 1946-47, we heard from the lips of the professors themselves that we were studying harder than any class had ever done before. We looked at each other and smiled our mutual satisfaction.

With the tolerant amusement of upper classmen, we watched the baby-bonneted Frosh stop downtown traffic with their mammoth snake dance. We bestirred ourselves to help organize clubs which covered every phase of student activity from ballet to boxing, social service to mock parliament. The drama club's "Twelfth Night" we applauded, and, in motley we crowded to the Mardi Gras. Five hundred couples of us danced at our lavish, two-orchestra formal, "A Night in Paradise", and filled the ballroom of the Macdonald Hotel to overflowing.

Our athletes shone brilliantly in our Sophomore year. Alberta took the Hardy Cup from Saskatchewan in football, the Priscilla Hammond Trophy in tennis, the Rigby Trophy in basketball, the Howe in boxing, and the Walker Intercollegiate Badminton Trophy, as well as retaining the Hespenny for yet another year. Life was real, life was earnest, but we took a deep breath, looked about us, discovered that it was remarkably pleasant after all, and decided that we were in no great hurry to leave the halls of learning despite lectures and exams.

We will remember the football parade of '47, the gala Homecoming Weekend, the cartwheeling cheer squad, the Junior Prom at the Trocadero. In the field of sport the Hespenny remained in our possession, the Golden Bears swept to grid victory over Toronto and kept the Hardy Cup, and the Rigby Trophy in basketball remained ours.

To a student conference in Europe we sent three delegates, who returned with increased faith in a peaceful world, and a hope that soon true peace would become a reality. The war was fading into the dim regions of the past; we had no desire to see it return.

In the fall of 1948 we stood on the threshold of our graduating year. We faced it with anticipation mingled with regret, for our University life had passed too quickly. We had seen the University through many changes, but this year, with twelve hundred students graduating, the change would be more drastic and more deeply felt. Still, we faced our last year with unabated enthusiasm.

Who was it that stole the cornerstone of the library just before it was to be laid on November 25th? Who was it that brought a goat, complete with Frosh Indian headdress and loin cloth, into a history class in Hut G? Who was it that painted the seats of Clarke Stadium green the morning of the Saskatchewan-Alberta football game? Who was it that raised the red flag of the hammer and sickle on the Ed. building flag pole? All unsolved mysteries; yet I think among us graduates, there are those who do know.

Once again we won the Hardy Cup and retained the Hespenny Trophy for the fourteenth consecutive year. We regretted the shelving of senior football; it would be strange to come back for Homecoming and not attend a game. We saw also the end of the mock parliament and the parliamentary forum. But a new society made its appearance on the campus, the Golden Key, to honor students who make outstanding contributions to extra-curricular activities.

In the fall, the drama club produced a "Romeo and Juliet", whose financial success attested its merits. Two more issues of "Stet" appeared, and it promised to become a quarterly. We were kept mentally alert with articles and argumentative letters which filled The Gateway, and we laughed over that comic book-inspired edition, the Gatenik, which we put away with the dance program of our Senior Prom, "Memories of U."

Four years have passed, four summers and the length of four long winters. We have let them go jealously, regretful to lose the comradeship and the laughter. But in our memory, where all time is one, these years will remain a joyous background for new ideas, fresh experience. The tide is rolling out, carrying us into a turbulent world, one which will demand everything from us and give us little in return. But we face it without illusion, with our life at the University of Alberta secure behind us, and her motto leading us on to seek "whatsoever things are true".

HELEN MCGREGOR.

Valedictory

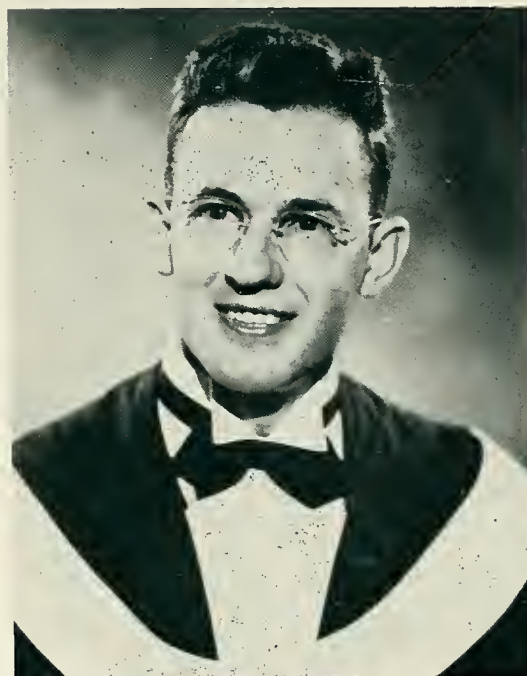

Today, as we bid farewell to our Alma Mater, and realize that University life for many of us is ended, we feel both grateful and happy. We are grateful for the many opportunities and experiences that have been ours these past few years, and happy because of the deep satisfaction within ourselves in having accomplished what we set out to do.

Whatever may have been our purpose in coming to University—the desire for culture in subjects such as philosophy, history, literature, and the fine arts, or the need for training in one of the major professions—it is certain that our college careers, if we have pursued them with any degree of sincerity, have been most worthwhile.

Through the guiding hand of our professors we have gained an appreciation of the true meaning of our motto, "Quaecumque Vera". Being in contact, through our studies, with the great minds of yesterday and today, we have caught a glimpse of the tremendous knowledge and skill there is to be acquired in whatever field of endeavor we enter. True, at times we have spent what seemed like endless hours compiling laboratory reports, writing lengthy essays, and struggling with mazes of difficult terminology for the ever-pending examinations—nevertheless, it is to be hoped that, as a result, we have gained, not only a body of factual material, but also have achieved a method of thinking that will enable us to sort, to analyze, to reason, and to interpret data for ourselves.

In addition to this mental growth, our University life has given us immeasurable social development. Our daily contacts with fellow-students in the classroom, in the halls, or in the ever-popular Tuck Shop have given us a broadened perspective as well as a greater tolerance and respect for another person's viewpoint. Through the organization of campus clubs, discussion groups and student government, many of us have gained valuable experience in administration and leadership; through our athletic activities, we have gained an appreciation of fair play and co-operation; through our literary and social functions, we have established a broad group of interests which should result in a satisfying use of our leisure time later. Thus, our University life has done much to develop our personalities, to enrich our cultural background and to foster social traits which will help us to become desirable members of society.

We feel, then, that our college education cannot help but be an asset to us for it has afforded us opportunities in abundance, and with these opportunities has placed upon us responsibilities such as bring maturity of thought and actions. Now, we realize it is our duty to apply ourselves with all the resources of our education to the solutions of the problems of our day; to live up to the rights which have been bestowed upon us; and to do our part to make this country a truly great democracy. We have been given this opportunity—let us not fail to use it.

SENIOR CLASS EXECUTIVE

DEAN W. F. BOWKER
Honorary President

To Don Norem, the popular and capable president, and to his executive go many deserving plaudits for their work in organizing the Senior Class activities for the year.

"Memories of 'U' ", the Senior Prom began, and the Graduation Ball ended, the many activities for the year. Between these were the many activities planned for the graduating class, including the semi-formal dance at Athabasca Hall and the informal dance at Lakeview Pavilion, a spirited party which will long be remembered after much of the Varsity life has been forgotten.

The Senior Class proudly presented popular Reg Lister with an engraved desk set in recognition of his services to the University. The class gift to the University was an easy chair and footstool for the Music Listening Room of the new library.

Many are the memories that our Seniors will carry with them from Varsity, and probably the most memorable and poignant will be the realizations and satisfaction gained from the years spent at the University of Alberta.

UNDERGRAD EXECUTIVES

The elections held in October selected the executives of the Undergraduate Societies for the 1948-49 session of the University of Alberta. When the smoke had cleared away, and the band playing of the candidates had died down, we met our new executives.

Reg. Tanner was elected president of the Junior Class, and his executive comprised Norma Fledderjohn in the position of vice-president and Harold Webber as secretary-treasurer. The representatives of the Junior Year were Francis Little, Gina D'Appolonia and Cecil Carrick.

The Sophomore Class was led by Lance Kirker, and assisting him were Joyce Morris as vice-president and Harvey Dodner as secretary-treasurer. Margaret Ritchie, Ernie Hutchinson and Fred Scott filled the positions of the representatives on the executive.

The new president of the Freshman Class was Dale Simmons, vice-president was Betty Thompson, and the secretary-treasurer was Tom Jackson. The Frosh. representatives were Audrey Anderson, Costa Chrysanthou and John Godel.

This year the individual class dances were replaced by a single dance sponsored by all three classes. Although a new innovation, the Undergraduate Formal was highly successful, being attended by 350 couples. The highlight of the evening's entertainment was the presentation of prizes to the best Viennese waltzers. Silver stars, sparkling music staffs and notes, along with a large silhouette of a Viennese couple highlighted the romantic atmosphere and created a mood for the theme.

In the past years, the functions and strength of the Undergraduate classes have gradually declined. We felt this year that the one main function left us was the organization of the Undergraduate Formal. We hope that future executives will take note of this and make the Undergraduate class spirit a potent force in the well-being of the University.

Dean of Agriculture

It is a pleasure to prepare a short statement for the 1948-49 edition of The Evergreen and Gold, and, in doing so, to wish the management and editorial staff the very best in connection with their undertaking.

The present class in the Faculty of Agriculture is the largest in the history of the Faculty, being 345 in number. The class is noteworthy, not only on account of numbers but for good spirits, splendid academic performance, and exemplary conduct.

Approximately one hundred graduates in Agriculture will go out from the University of Alberta in 1949. It is to be expected that, as in previous years, numbers will take up farming in Alberta, while others, on account of the demand for professional services, will engage in research, extension work, teaching, and in various capacities with industries related to agriculture.

In closing, may I, on behalf of the staff and students of the Faculty of Agriculture, extend greetings to The Evergreen and Gold and to staffs and students in other Faculties and Schools in the University.

Dean of Arts and Science

This "parent" Faculty has had the usual experience of parents; it has seen its children—the professional Faculties and Schools—breaking away from it to set themselves up in an apparently vigorous and thriving independence. It is easy to see why they should find little time—and less and less time, as they grow up—to concern themselves with any but their own affairs. The parent Faculty must reassert itself. It must try to turn a region, which has been lapsing into a no-man's land, into a common territory—a natural meeting place of all well-trained minds. The region is represented by the cultural heritage of humanities and sciences, which is the basis of our civilization. This is not just an academic matter; it is the most starkly practical issue that faces us. When Dean Inge told us early in the century that "Rome fell to barbarians from without—we breed our own", neither he nor we had any inkling of how hideously accurate the statement would look a few years later. To conserve and further our heritage of humane and scientific values—such is the star to which the Faculty of Arts and Science must hitch its wagon, and if at times the object looks more like a nebula than a star, the Faculty should not on that account permit its gaze to be deflected (and restricted) to nearer, clearer, but lower objects. Facilis descensus.

ARTS AND SCIENCE CLUB

1948-49

"Arts and Science will not follow
Where the tipsy beermen wallow.
We are full where they are hollow,
Heads up A. S. C.!"

Our fourth year of the Arts and Science Club found us with a large membership, a snappy crest, cheer songs, teams in Hockey, Basketball, Soccer and Swimming, and also five out of seven of our candidates elected to the Class Executives.

Arts and Science includes Fine Arts, Science, Household Economics, Pre-Law, Pre-Medicine, Pre-Dentistry and Commerce.

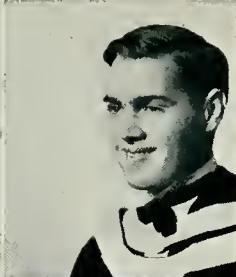

This year we aimed to foster a more active faculty spirit. One week after Frosh Introduction we held the first Arts and Science House Dance, and also Rugby Romp in Athabasca Hall. Then came the A. S. C. float in the football parade at Homecoming Weekend. Class elections and campaigning took up the next few weeks, followed by another House Dance, the Plaid Prom. The "Mardi Gras", originally scheduled for that date was postponed because the Varsity Gym's new floor was not ready.

The "Mardi Gras", A. S. C.'s annual masquerade ball was held in the Varsity Gym, transformed for the night into a fairyland of color with the King's throne surmounted by a setting of tall marble pillars, broad staircases, and giant vases. The dance was broadcast and thousands of listeners heard the Nurses' candidate, Sandy Gilchrist, being crowned King of the Mardi Gras.

The year's activities continued with afternoon swing sessions, sleigh rides and skating parties.

Dean of Education

The Faculty of Education, staff and students, welcomes this opportunity of extending greetings to campus colleagues of other faculties, to graduates of former years and to parents of present and past Education classes.

The primary task of the Faculty of Education is the education and training of teaching personnel for the schools of Alberta. In this work we have the able assistance of other faculties, particularly the Faculty of Arts and Science. The Faculty of Education restricts its teaching to professional content, while relating this content to the non-professional subject matter taught to our students by other faculties.

We are trying to raise standards in the teaching profession. Thanks to the co-operation of other university departments we are succeeding. This success is reflected in the developing professionalism of the Education Undergraduate Society and in a growing interest in the two-year basic training program.

The Faculty of Education as it expands hopes to arrange and administer its programs in such a way that its graduates may not be mere technicians who know everything about teaching except its purpose and its relation to society. Teaching can be made a profession. The Faculty of Education accepts the challenge of making it such.

DEAN HARDY,
Dean of Engineering

It is with great pleasure that I take this opportunity to extend greetings to the present group of undergraduate students in the Faculty of Engineering and in particular to the members of the 1949 graduating class. You have been attending University under extraordinary conditions in that you have been members of the largest groups of students ever accommodated by this Faculty. There have been trials and tribulations but also some compensations incidental to the post-war influx of students. They have been interesting days—perhaps one may say even exciting days at times.

However, to the graduating class in particular it is a time to look forward rather than backward. Many of you may feel you are entering upon a career under a handicap of four, five or even six lost years. Such however is not necessarily the case. Maturity of judgment, confidence in your ability, experience in cooperation with your associates; all these are assets that combined with a disciplined mind, a sound background of fundamental knowledge and a high sense of integrity and social responsibility are assets that in due course will far more than balance the short delay in launching a career.

All members of the Faculty will watch your careers with sympathetic interest and will join me in wishing you god-speed.

R. M. HARDY.

Perhaps the days of unsupervised Pembina tours are over, but as in past years, the Engineers showed the fire and zeal associated with them and their society. The first big event for the campus slip-stick artists was the smoker held in the Masonic Temple. Dean Hardy presented the main address of the evening.

Regular meetings rolled around often and such prominent engineers as Dean Finlayson (President of E.I.C.) and Professor L. E. Gads addressed the members on various topics. An outstanding lecture on the "Control of Atlantic No. 3", arranged by Imperial Oil, was especially noteworthy.

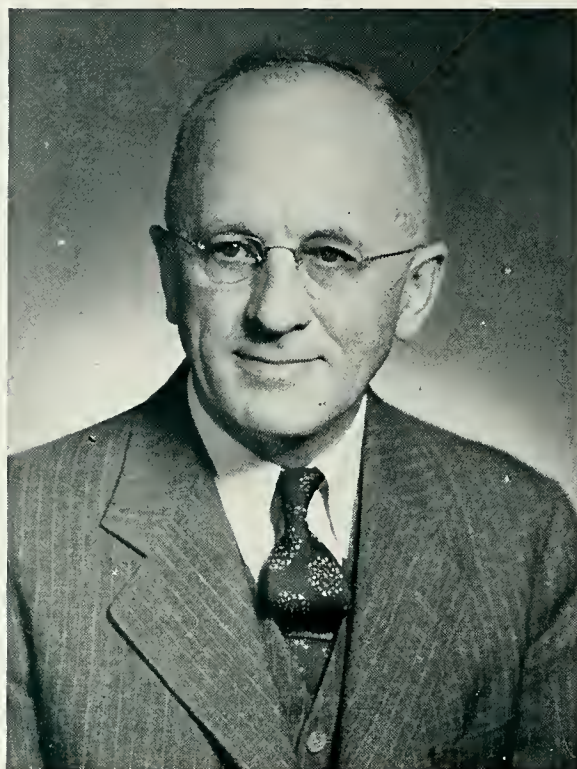

As in past years, Engineers dominated the campus intermural sports scene, placing first in soccer and hockey and narrowly missing top berth on the basketball court.

The Webb Memorial Contest (sponsored yearly by the Society), attracted the excellent technical papers of Eugene Cook, mining senior who won first prize, and Ches Peel, civil senior who came second. Through this competition the Society gives its members opportunity to exercise skills in writing and public speaking, and honors the memory of the late Professor Webb.

Along the social line, the society sponsored a Pre-Cram Session before Christmas, a dance which attracted members of all faculties.

The big event of an Engineer's year is, of course, the Ball. The bevy of beauties which vied for the title of Queen were presented to the members of the Society at a special meeting. At the Ball, charming Miss Stella Hanna was crowned by President Don Dick. Six hundred couples watched the pageant at the colorfully decorated Varsity Gymnasium.

The activities of the Society wound up with its annual conference, held this year in the Masonic Temple. Outstanding contributors to engineering life on the campus were Ralph McManus, Don Dick, Brant Kirby, Bob Rosser, George Davis and Jim Hume, who were awarded handsome silver steins

Because of recent developments in this province the chosen theme for this year-book is indeed appropriate. We in Canada, and particularly in Alberta, are privileged to live not only in a land of plenty, but in a place where one may, within the bounds of decency, think, act and speak as he desires; a land where there are no slave camps.

As we think of our resources let us not consider only the physical developments which have recently appeared before our eyes, as does the mushroom over night. Through millions of years nature has placed within the earth beneath us, great deposits of coal, gas, oil, and a fertile soil. Their proper application to our physical needs combined with an appreciation of moral values will make of us a great people. Their exploitation and selfishness on our part will lead to chaos, immorality and ultimate destruction, as was the experience of great civilizations of the past.

In the final analysis our greatest resource is our people. Let us therefore concentrate on developing within our students, that concept of, and appreciation for the finer things of our physical and spiritual existence which constitute a great nation.

DEAN SCOTT
Dean of Medicine

The student of medicine today has fallen heir to a vast legacy of knowledge in both the pre-clinical and clinical fields. In undergraduate days this may not be wholly welcomed. There may seem to be just so much more to be learned in preparation for the ordeal of final examinations. Actually, however, new accretions of knowledge often supersede and simplify some of the older concepts so that the actual amount of teaching in the Faculty has not appreciably increased over the years.

Your undergraduate experience will, it is hoped, stimulate your interest in medicine both as a science and an art to the point of developing you not to be merely students of medicine, but students of life.

The advances year by year both in medicine and its ancillary sciences have yielded new therapeutic agents for the healing of human ailments and the prolongation of life. Of greater significance, however, is the fact that newer discoveries make it possible to establish what was once mere empirical observation as scientific truth.

May each of you in your pursuit of this truth share something of the joy of one of your fellow students of medicine—John Keats—when he said "Beauty is truth, truth beauty,—that is all Ye know on Earth, and all ye need to know."

W. F. BOWKER, B.A., LL.B.,
Dean of Law

During his years at the University the law student learns the value of the lawyer's three R's—"readin' and readin' and readin'." He has been taught to "look up law"; to interpret statutes and documents; to express himself in writing and in speech. It is an old saying that he could make a good argument before the highest Court and yet that he does not know how to handle a trivial case in the police court. The answer is that a law school is not intended to produce a finished lawyer. The practical "know how" can only be learned by experience gained in an office. However, the University can give him an appetite for learning, and a sense of responsibility. If he lacks these, the widest knowledge of the rules of law will not make him a good lawyer.

He may enter practice in a large city, a small town, or may join a large corporation or enter government service. Wherever his career takes him, he is a member of an honoured profession—the profession that has made British justice respected everywhere. He will remember that he is responsible for the preservation of that justice in the community where he lives; that, he is qualified by training to help shape and apply the law to fit the needs of society and that he is under obligation to use his talents in the public interest.

LITERARY ASSOCIATION

GORDON PEACOCK,
President

"Romeo and Juliet, The McGowan Cup Debates, The Inter Year Plays," and the splendid performances of the Radio Society are a few of the highlights of the year's work of the Literary Association.

The largest group of clubs on the campus, "Lit.", this year, has lived up to the reputation it has established in the past.

The Drama Society, with its colorful production of "Romeo and Juliet," began the year with the high standard that was carried on through the Inter Year Plays and the Festival production of "Sordid Story".

Makeup again played its essential role behind the scenes. Under the capable leadership of Mary Warren, Engineers became gallant dukes, and House Eccer's became grand dames of the 17th Century.

Many pints of blood were cajoled out of the students by the persistent efforts of the Social Service Club. The Blood Donor's Drive was one of their major efforts this year.

The Political Science Club and the International Relations Club worked closely together this year on an ambitious program of bringing in speakers that would interest the student body as a whole. The Debating Club also tried to find topics that would draw student interest, and the Debates held were of the finest calibre seen at the University for some years. The Public Speaking Club continued in its fine work of giving valuable assistance in the training of future orators.

Radio on the campus carved its place in student life with a series of well planned programs that were broadcast over local stations. The Radio Society is to be congratulated for its excellent work and upon the future that it has made for itself on the campus.

This year's major objective was the acquisition of suitable cupboards in which to store our costumes, drapes and records. Due to the felt need and the sterling work of the clubs, the Students' Council was persuaded to loosen the purse strings, and we now have a set of moveable cupboards which will be placed in the new Students' Union Building.

It has been a grand year, varied and interesting, and it has been due to the high quality of the members, the excellent cooperation given by the eight presidents and their executives, and the wonderful help given by the Secretary, Pat Scott, that we have been able to forge ahead.

SOCIAL SERVICE

During the year, the Social Service Club has pursued its aim of extending student social consciousness by holding open meetings at which various speakers gave talks on a variety of social problems. In January, at a supper meeting, each member explained his interest in the field of Social Work. Later in January, in cooperation with the Canadian Red Cross and the Students' Union, the club conducted a campaign for blood donors. Visits were made to the South Side Optimists' Home and the Edmonton Creche.

The club's main expenditures have been towards the building up of a library which will be of use to all interested persons in the future, and the services of the club have been placed at the disposal of the Students' Union.

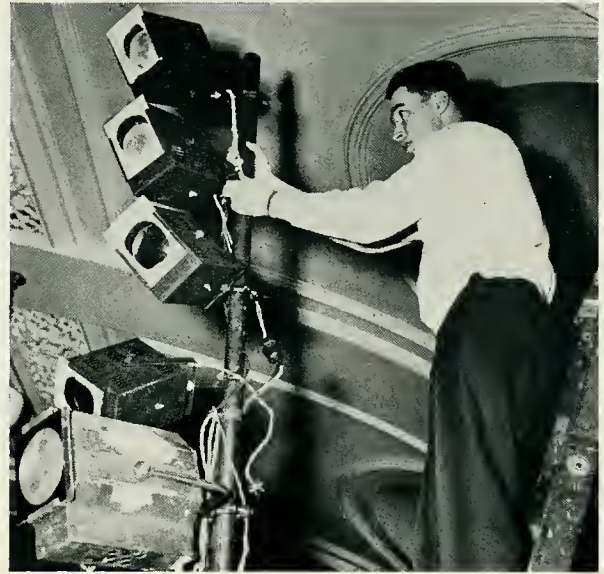

LIGHT AND SOUND

One of the most unsung, and yet one of the most vital groups on the Campus is the Light and Sound Crew. The average student doesn't realize that Light and Sound supplies the lighting for practically all the major dances on and off the campus, as well as for most of our major functions. Whenever there is a microphone to be set up, or a recording to be broadcast, the Light and Sound Crew is called.

Under the leadership of Norm Parry, the group has provided lighting for such major activities as Romeo and Juliet, the Interyear Plays, the Workshop Plays, the Mixed Chorus, the Engineers' Ball, and many others.

The Light and Sound Crew is not only called upon for University functions, for often during the year a plea for help will come from some overtown organization.

Although small, this group has become highly efficient, and it has, and will continue to play, a vital part in the Students' Union.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB

CHARLES MacDONELL,
President

Although the International Relations Club is a small group of interested students, it provides provocative topics and studies for the student body as a whole. Someone once said that whereas Political Science is politics on a national scale, International Relations is politics on an international scale. This covers only in part the activities of the International Relations Club. Because work of this type functions better in small groups, discussion and study groups were prominent this year. The Club brought in speakers who spoke on topics relevant to world affairs. These speakers were chosen with an eye to general student interest as well as being of particular interest to Club members.

Under likeable Charlie MacDonell, the I.R.C. worked closely with the Political Science Club in bringing in speakers of general interest. Although hampered by a limited budget, the group found that money isn't the most necessary factor in making a club a success.

Plans have already been laid for the activities for the following year, and if everything works out, the 1949-50 session should be a promising one for the I.R.C.

POLITICAL SCIENCE CLUB

BILL SINCLAIR,
President

After embarking on an ambitious program of public meetings with prominent national and international speakers, the Political Science Club, like many other campus clubs, found itself caught in the spotlight of the Students' Council austerity program. Not to be denied, the P.S.C. fought back bravely, and while being forced to cut the proposed programme somewhat, it still managed to carry it out to a satisfying degree.

Later in the year the Club looked around and found that two of its proteges were causing an uproar. The Social Credit group and the Labor Progressive group were creating an unpleasant odor in the Mock Parliament (which was formerly under the control of the Political Science Club).

After enquiring into the situation, the Students' Council decided to dissolve the Mock Parliament and give more financial aid and control to the Political Science Club, which henceforth would be responsible for non-partisan politics on the campus. This arrangement satisfied most groups, as it was felt that this sensible arrangement would remedy the situation of the Mock Parliament, which was growing out of hand.

The 1949-50 session will see a new situation on the campus in which the Club will be responsible for all campus politics.

MUSICAL ASSOCIATION

DON PHILIPS
President

The association which consists of four musical groups, the Mixed Chorus, the Symphony, the Ballet Club, and the Musical Club, is responsible for the major musical activities on the campus. The 1948-49 session was a "boom" year for music on the campus and several concerts of varied talent were given for the students.

The Mixed Chorus played to packed houses early in February, to set a record attendance for such an event in Convocation Hall. They later toured the province, giving concerts in nine Alberta centers. The Symphony chose Schumann's music as their major work for the year, which was ably presented under the baton of Dr. Gordon Clark, featuring Donald Potter as guest pianist. A surprise package on the symphony program was the "Toy Symphony," by Haydn featuring several professors playing such instruments as toy drums, trumpets, whistles, and ratchets.

The Ballet, unable to present their usual major production because of technical difficulties, gave an enjoyable concert on one of the Musical Club's evening programmes, with Miss Elizabeth Taylor as soloist and director.

As well as the regular Sunday evening concerts once a month, the Musical Club sponsored two celebrity concerts, genial Reginald Godden, head of the 'Hamilton Conservatory of Music, gave an excellent piano recital early in November, and the well known Canadian artists, Frances James, soprano, and Murray Adaskin, violinist, appeared as guest artists in February.

It was excellent programmes such as these that led people to believe that '48-'49 was a banner year for music on the campus.

MUSIC CLUB

This year the University Musical Club has had its most successful year to date. Membership was more than doubled as there was a very gratifying response not only from the students but also from over-town citizens.

REGINALD GODDEN, GUEST ARTIST

Five Sunday evening concerts were presented during the year and with the cooperation of the Radio Division it was possible to broadcast two of them. This year every endeavor was made to give campus artists the opportunity to prepare and perform a more concert-type program.

The policy of presenting a nationally known artist was continued and due to the interest shown in the first concert another one was arranged later in the year. This year the special guests were Reginald Godden, Frances James, and Murray Adaskin.

The Executive is indebted to the Honorary President, Prof. R. S. Eaton for his encouragement and assistance and also to Miss Maimie Simpson, Dean and Mrs. R. M. Hardy, Dr. and Mrs. O. J. Walker, Dr. and Mrs. P. Warren for their patronage.

MIXED CHORUS

RON STEPHENS
President

"The best yet," said critics of the 1948-49 concert presented by the University Mixed Chorus to capacity crowds in Convocation Hall, January 31, February 1 and 2.

Unique among Canadian choral groups, and ever popular on the campus, the Chorus has this year enjoyed its most successful season of its five-year history.

Limited in size to 140 members because of available auditorium space, the Chorus, nevertheless, attracted more than 200 eager students to early fall rehearsals. Under the direction of Richard S. Eaton, head of the Music Division of the Fine Arts Department, the Chorus attained near professional quality. The three Edmonton performances were sold out in advance, something new for Varsity performances, and a tribute to Mr. Eaton's remarkable talent.

Additional February performances were sponsored in Calgary by the Cosmopolitan Club of that city. Early in March, a special half-hour broadcast, originating on the campus, featured the Mixed Chorus on the CBC Western Network. Local CBC technicians seem confident that the Chorus will be carried on a National hookup.

In mid-October, Mixed Chorus members assisted in Alumni Homecoming Weekend, and later in the year sang several numbers at the special Parliamentary banquet.

The climax of the Chorus social calendar was the joint banquet with the Calgary Cosmopolitan Club following the last program. Earlier in the year Chorus members relaxed at two club parties.

At the conclusion of exams, eighty members of the Chorus, under the guiding baton of Mr. Eaton, gave nine performances in southern Alberta centres. Travelling in their two special Greyhound buses, these eighty Choristers made southern Albertans more University conscious, at the same time providing them with concerts of high musical quality.

NEWMAN CLUB

"Cor ad Cor Loquitur" . . . "Speaking Heart to Heart".

The Newman Club, the Club for all Catholics on the campus, is the Club where all members are really expected to "speak heart to heart" . . . spiritually, intellectually, and socially.

With this in mind, the Newman Club introduced, with a Freshette Tea and an informal dance, a series of regular Sunday night socials, highlighted by the Hallowe'en, Christmas, and Valentine dances . . . and of course, hay-rides, sleigh-rides, and skating parties, in season, for the sports enthusiasts. The "Saltatio Club," however, proved to be the brightest light in the year's activities, and through their demonstrations, the Newmanites really learned how to mix and have a very, very good time.

This year, in addition to lectures given by distinguished guest speakers, the Newmanites presented a very interesting series of talks on marriage . . . with the lectures prepared and presented by active members of the club. . . . This year, too, members kept in close contact with other Newman Clubs throughout Canada, in the pages of the Federation's official newspaper, "The Canadian Newmanite."

As well as the annual retreat which was given early in the year, the Spiritual Convener arranged for Holy Hour services and general Communion Sundays.

On the whole, general meetings, bridge, whist, bingo, ping-pong, lectures, tutorials, dancing, choir practice, skating, coffee parties . . . and discussion, the spice of life, managed to make this a very busy and very profitable year for the Newman Club.

And so, the activities were brought to an end with the pre-Graduation exercises and tea in St. Joseph's College . . . and with the last Sunday night social in the Club rooms, until the fall term when once again Newmanites will be saying: "Sunday night is Newman night!"

STUDENTS' CHRISTIAN MOVEMENT

DR. THOMPSON

One of the most courageous moves yet made by the S.C.M. group was the starting of the 1948-49 term without a paid secretary. The loss was considerable but the change has brought some gains. In the hands of the executive, a full year's programme of activities has been carried out, in some ways more comprehensive than was originally planned.

At the beginning of the term four discussion groups were set up in an endeavor to emphasize four aspects of Christian living. It is expected that this venture will lead to greater things in the years ahead.

Outstanding among regular functions were the lecture series by Dean Trendall, and the study groups under Dr. Sheldon considering the topic, "Jesus as a Teacher."

The S.C.M. supported and was greatly benefitted by the Christian Mission conducted on the campus by Bishop Neil. Visiting speakers sponsored by the S.C.M. included Dr. James Robinson of Harlem, New York, and the internationally known Dr. Chang, who was able to give a first hand account of conditions in China today.

Functions worthy of mention include the regional conference at Winnipeg, which two of our members attended; the supper meeting of our cabinet and advisory board; the regular fire-sides; attendance at church as a group a number of times during the winter; and two very enjoyable open house parties. The annual banquet and the coming spring camp lent an air of expectancy to the close of the spring term.

A vote of appreciation goes to our honorary president, Dr. Caird, for his helpful advice and words of encouragement when they were most needed; and to the advisory board for their steadying influence in time of crisis.

Programs heard weekly included two one-half hour shows: Calling Home, M.C.'d by Don Welbourn and Keith Rich, and Cafe Chatter, with Leon Raskin and other students. Weekly fifteen-minute programs included: Campus Sportlines with Don Matheson, The Harp Thornton Program, and a special series of talent shows, arranged by Shirley Stinson and featuring various students on the Campus. Sunday Song, with Gladys Griffin-Beale and Bruce Bowen, was awarded the CKUA Plaque which is presented annually by Radio Station CKUA for the best student program of the season; Bill Kelly and Jean Keeley also appeared on this program earlier in the year. On the spot broadcasts included the Freshman Dance and the Arts and Science Mardi Gras.

BETTE BOTHWELL
President

Work-shop activities in radio announcing and script writing were carried on weekly in the Campus Studio under the direction of the University Radio Service Director, Miss Margery MacKenzie. In the New Year, Elsie Park Gowan, free-lance script writer for the CBC, devoted her time to a lecture series in script writing; and through the cooperation of Radio Station CFRN, the Radio Society was able to sponsor a script writing contest. Winners in this contest were: the Mainland sisters, first prize; Steve Sears, second prize; and Marie-Cecile Wilfart, third prize.

The Executive this year, who put much effort and time into the expansion and development of the Radio Society were: Honorary President, Miss Margery MacKenzie; President, Bette Bothwell; Program Director and Script Writing, Steve Sears; Musical activities, Shirley Stinson; Announcing, Keith Rich; Publicity, Mary Smart; Secretary, Gladys Anderson; Business Manager, Harp Thornton; President of "Ham", Harvey Buckmaster.

1948-49 marked a full year of the activities and work of the House Ec. Club. In the Fall, the Freshmen were the guests at a get acquainted party in which they not only had a chance to meet the other House-Eccers but also our staff.

February was high-lighted by our annual formal ball which was held in Athabasca Dining Hall, the theme being, "Buttons and Beaux." The programs featured a large button together with decorations of gay ninety design carrying out the theme.

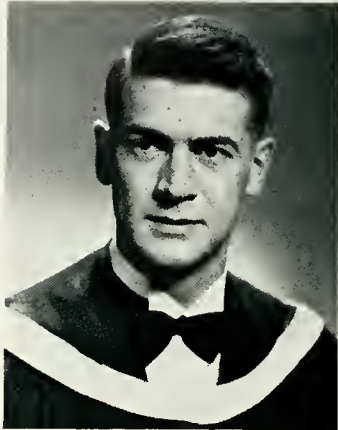

Our members very capably assisted with the Red Cross Blood Transfusion Drive and also worked with the committee responsible for the planning of the Parliamentary Dinner.

We are very proud of our House Eccers in the field of sport, for this year they won the coveted Rose Bowl awarded for highest points in 'Womens' interfac sport.

Our final meeting featured nominations for the 1949-50 executive. Miss Patrick, our honorary president, was responsible for the very enjoyable tea that completed the meeting as well as a wonderful year.

LAW CLUB

GEORGE FIELD
President

The Law Club, under President George Field, reached its peak enrollment since its inception with one hundred and twelve registered law students paying their dues. Activities were commenced by the November smoker which went off according to precedent. A happy atmosphere was soon reached in the usual manner, some legal ditties were sung and Dean Bowker once again thrilled all present with his stirring rendition of "Casey at the Bat."

The Law Club next presented a legal lesson to the University and the City of Edmonton in the form of a float entitled "Crime Does Not Pay." This masterpiece, depicting a well known type of marriage, will long be remembered by those who saw it.

Great excitement was caused by the first year students making insinuations about the mental and physical deterioration of the Seniors. This tendency was corrected rather severely when, through the Law Club, a hockey match was arranged between the two factions. Needless to say, the Seniors were the victors. The Club also sponsored soccer and basketball teams in the interfac loop, but due to certain difficulties which could not be overcome by appeal, the Law Library is not overcrowded with silver trophies.

On December 9th, the major dance was held in the Trocadero Ballroom, treasurer Jerry Reyda scraping up a two dollar profit on the deal and everyone having a wonderful time.

During the year certain difficulties have arisen, such as the procurement of hoods for graduation, the levy for buying more hockey sticks and the selection of presents for newly arrived babies of both faculty and students (a bow tie for Dean Bowker's youngest was given serious consideration).

Messrs. Field and Parry have carried on with admirable fortitude, the result being a successful year for the Law Club.

In the ever unfolding story of the Faculty of Agriculture on the campus of this university the term 1948-49 stands out as one of great achievements. Total enrollment approached the three hundred and fifty mark, and members of the largest graduating class in the history of this faculty were launched on their respective careers. By any standard the representation of Ags in student activities was outstanding, for offices as different as president of the Students' Union, director of the annual parade, director of the yearbook, director of Waw-Waw, and Curma executive were entrusted to them. The Agricultural Club itself was particularly fortunate in having an executive which represented the club in a most creditable manner during its term of office.

Outstanding among club activities were the evenings given to special speakers who visited the campus during the term.

Membership of the Ag club broadened in two ways. First, senior members of the club were able to become junior members of the A.I.C.; and secondly, some of the persons who attended university for the dairy short course became members of the club.

EDUCATION UNDERGRADUATE SOCIETY

The Education Undergraduate Society, like several other faculty clubs, attempts to provide sport and social activities for its members. Education teams participated in all major campus sports, with varying degrees of success. Social events were highlighted by the Mixer Dance, the Latin Quarter, the Graduation Dinner and Dance, and the first E.U.S. at Home. E.U.S. social activities have proved sufficiently popular to draw scores of visitors from other faculties.

Our most important achievement of the year was the sponsoring of the first Western Canada Conference of Student Teachers. The Conference took place on the Alberta campus from January 17th to January 20th. A need for a more complete knowledge of teaching and its problems prompted the Conference. To all those who in any way assisted with the Conference, a grateful "thank you" is extended.

As a result of the Conference, a Western Canada Students Teachers' Federation is in the process of formation. Another Conference is being planned, and a Newsletter outlining professional activities in each teacher-training institution is being published at Alberta. Proceedings of the Conference were summarized in a booklet, copies of which were distributed to all Education students.

The E.U.S. executive could not have possibly accomplished all it planned if it had not been for the cooperation it received from the Faculty and the students. To those then, may we say "thank you" for a year well spent.

REG TANNER

Military and Research

New regulations brought out at the beginning of this academic year have helped to make training with the University Naval Training Division much more attractive than before. New entries now only have to wait a period of four months before they are brought before the Selection Board. If accepted by the Board they are then rated "Cadets R.C.N. (R)" in whatever branch of the service they may be. The term

"Officer Candidate" no longer applies to U.N.T.D. members.

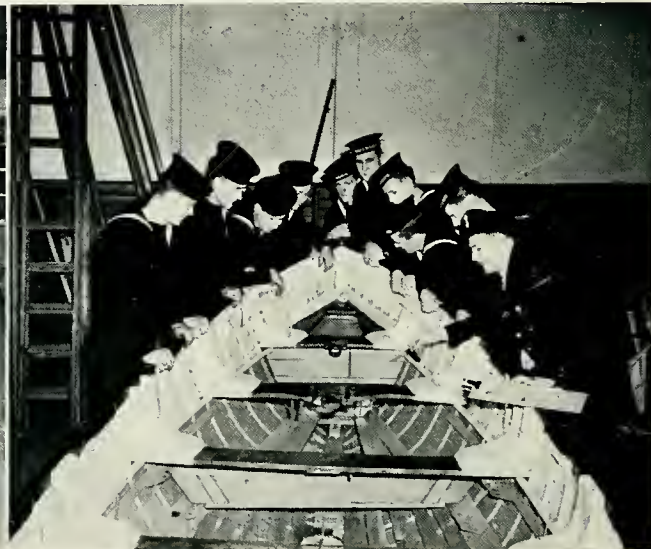

A change of uniform has been made for all Cadets. Officer's caps and battledress are the rig of the day for all Cadets. A Gun Room for Cadets has been built next to the Wardroom and should do much to assist Cadets and Officers in getting to know each other better.

All U.N.T.D. members attested since the fall of 1948 are now required to spend two full summer vacation periods of training at the Pacific Coast. Training in the various branches, engineering, supply, medical, electrical and executive will be more advanced and thorough than before. A very interesting section of the training of third and fourth year Cadets will consist of a cruise programme in which a Navy frigate will be largely manned by the Cadets themselves.

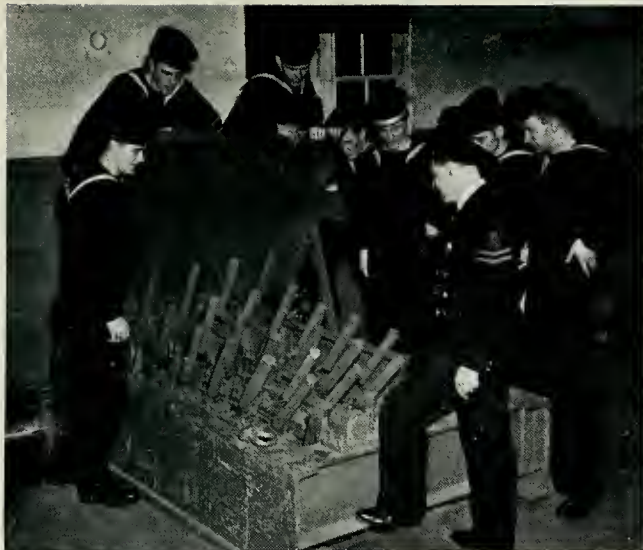

Several changes in staff took place at H.M.C.S. Nonsuch during the summer of 1948. Commander Rodney Pike, R.C.N. (R) reverted to the Retired List and Commander L. R. Hoar, R.C.N. (R) was appointed as the new Commanding Officer. A new and very popular Staff Officer, Lieut. R. H. Lier, R.C.N., was appointed to the Division. The Divisional Officers for the U.N.T.D. for 1948-49 were Lieut. G. E. Allin, R.C.N. (R), Lieut. W. J. Ewasiuk, R.C.N. (R), and Cadet T. H. Miller, R.C.N. (R). Lieut. R. E. Phillips, R.C.N. (R) continued on in the capacity of Commanding Officer.

The Contingent moved into its first year of full scale operation during 1948 when a total of ninety-six students, representing almost every Faculty in the University, dispersed at the end of the term to the various Army training schools and establishments across Canada. At all these centres our Alberta students acquitted themselves well. When the reports from the Ordnance School at Montreal, the Engineers at Chilliwack, the Armoured School at Camp Borden, the Infantry at Calgary and from the more than a dozen other points, had been received, the Contingent was proud to discover that the percentage of its successful candidates was just short of the hundred. In addition, the number of Alberta cadets receiving better than average gradings was conspicuous, while there were several outstanding performances such as that of Duncan Elliott who topped his class at the School of Infantry.

This year thirty-five new members of the Contingent will spend their summer months being initiated into the study of the complicated art of modern soldiering. With the former members who are enthusiastically awaiting their return for a second or third summer of training the University will have a representation of approximately one hundred candidates in the summer of 1949.

A change of command was effected in January when Lt.-Col. Van Vliet, finding the pressure of his other duties too great for him, handed over to Lt.-Col. D. Healy. Lt.-Col. Van Vliet took command with enthusiasm and cheerfulness at a difficult stage in the development of the new C.O.T.C. system and the future character of the Contingent will owe much to his efforts. The appointment of Lt.-Col. Healy will be followed shortly by the building of more suitable accommodation for the C.O.T.C.—to include an Orderly Room and a lounge which will be shared with the R.C.A.F. Training Flight.

His Honour, the Honourable J. C. Bowen, Lieutenant-Governor of Alberta has graciously assented to continue as Honorary Colonel of the Contingent and the Contingent hopes to maintain the practice of turning out a Guard for his inspection at the opening of the Legislative Assembly, as was done this year.

DR. MILLER AND WATER SAMPLER

ZOOLOGY: DR. ROWAN.

The Zoology Department is working on the vertebrate fauna of Alberta (exclusive of fish), and certain phases of the ten-year cycle. There is an important study underway in embryology. Work is already underway on the parasites of whitefish, the effects of artificial fertilization on the carrying capacity and fish production of ponds and lakes, and other fishing problems, including commercial fishing of Goldeye in Lake Athabaska. Work is also continuing on the migration cycles of rabbits and upland game birds.

TROPICAL GREENHOUSE

BOTANY: DR. MOSS.

Five members of the staff of this department are carrying on a considerable amount of research on the practical applications of forestry, horticulture and agronomy. Work is also continuing on the study of the wood-destroying fringe. An investigation of certain forest trees deals with fundamental aspects of the process involved, while work has been initiated on the physiology of woody cuttings and the study of root hairs. For the past summer there has been time devoted to a study of vegetation in the Peace River region.

SHOULDice SHOWS 'EM IN GEOLOGY

GEOLOGY: DR. ALLAN.

Most of the Geological research is carried out in the field. These researches are related to foundations and power sites; determination of fossils to enable better stratigraphic interpretation; composition and structure of certain rocks in relation to the accumulation and occurrence of petroleum and natural gas; metallic minerals in the Canadian Shield; and the study of microorganisms in relation to oil and gas horizons. The geologist is constantly carrying on research to get a better understanding of the occurrence of coal, oil and gas, and the structures in which these occur.

RESEARCH

DENTISTRY: DEAN HAMILTON.

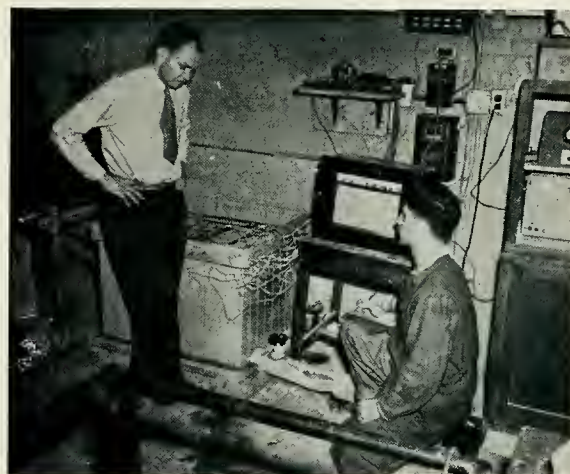

Two projects are in progress relating to dental problems: one is being done in the Department of Chemistry in which various marketed solutions are being tested for their effects in prosthetic appliances; and the other is in regard to the effect of materials and solutions on dental pulp when sealed in cavities. Investigation in the histological examination of Cementum in relation to Periodontal Disease is being made. Effort is being made in selected cases to reduce high Lacti-Bacculus counts (relation of Dental Caries) which are coincident with marked dental decay, through a controlled dietary program.

NEW DENTAL LAB.

ENGINEERING: DEAN HARDY.

The Department of Civil Engineering is carrying on an extension of Highway Research, a program of pavement evaluation at trolley bus stops, foundation investigations, principles of drainage with the process of Electromosis as applied to silty soils, and work on the properties of tar sand, together with their behavior in construction. In the Chemical Engineering Department, work has been started on the flow in vertical pipes of water and air mixtures.

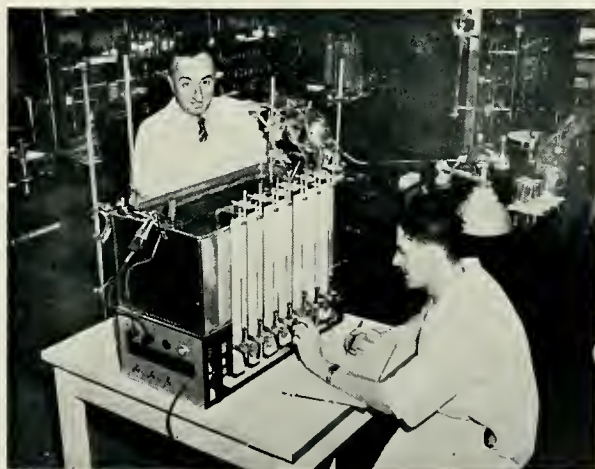

PROF. A. L. THORSSEN EXPERIMENTING IN CIVIL ENGINEERING

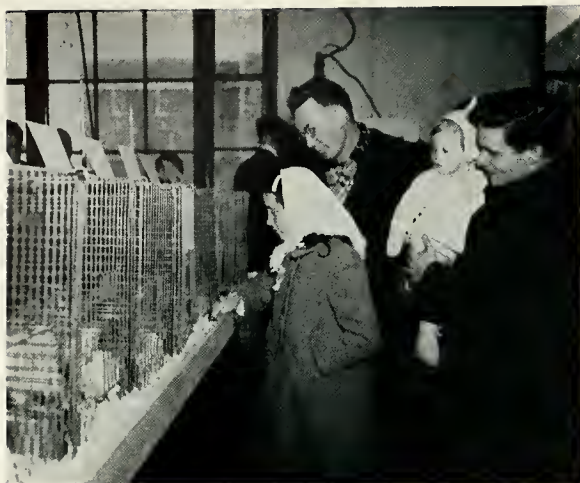

MEDICINE: DR. SCOTT.

Such clinical problems as the factors in wound healing and the endocrine basis of disease are being investigated. Other departments are looking into the factors in the development of cancer, the way in which congenital abnormalities of the heart develop, and such substances as penicillin which are used to combat these diseases.

Research in biochemistry is being carried on in a number of problems; what is the role of enzymes in the function of the body, the mechanism of diseases such as diabetes, and the development of tests of kidney functions.

DR. TUBA AND BOB HOARE IN BIOCHEMISTRY

VIEWING EXPERIMENTAL RESULTS

AGRICULTURE: ANIMAL SCIENCE, DAIRYING AND ENTOMOLOGY.

Feeding experiments are underway to test the value of any feed, combination of feeds and vitamin content. Laboratory studies are being directed towards determining the essential amino acid content of grains, meat, fish and soybean.

Projects in dairying are the perfecting of a method to reduce rancidity of dairy products and the studying of bacteria growth at low temperatures in milk and cream.

In the Department of Entymology, work is underway with thrips in relation to clover seed production. Studies are also underway on the pale western cut-worm and the effect of benzene hexo-chloride on developing seedlings, for use in combating wire-worms.

MIKE CHMILAR AND DR. DAVIS IN CHEMISTRY

CHEMISTRY:

In the Department of Chemistry, the members of the staff are carrying out research on a wide range of problems. A great deal of experimental work is being conducted on the preparation, constitution and therapeutic properties of several groups of complex organic compounds; catalysts for the production of liquid fuels are being prepared and studied; research on the formation of monolayers of complex substances is proceeding. Other researches are on problems dealing with cellulose, synthetic rubber and straw; investigations are under way dealing with corrosion of metals as well as on some of the constituents of natural waters.

EXPERIMENTING IN PHYSICS DEPARTMENT

PHYSICS: DR. LANG.

The Physics Department is continuing work on the spectrum of Thorium and is collaborating on the problem with spectroscopists in Holland. There is an attempt to measure the total solar radiation in the ultra-violet region on Edmonton, the purpose of which is to discover if there is any relation between this and the fluctuation in the wild animal population in Northern Alberta. By means of a Wilson Cloud Chamber, investigations are going forward into the behavior of certain particles from radio active sources. There are projects underway designed to make measurements on atmospheric ozone and also to study the behavior of spark sources.

AGRICULTURE: PLANT SCIENCE AND SOILS.

Research in field crops is directed toward the securing of information on genetics and breeding value of old and new strains of various crops. Horticulture studies include breeding work with fruits, vegetables, and flowers, and the study of adaptability of new varieties and control of diseases. Plant biochemistry and physiology departments are studying plant proteins and the quality of soft wheat.

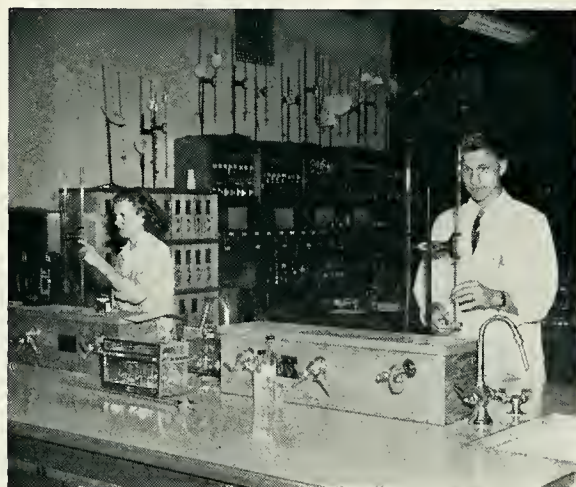

In the department of Soils, further work in the irrigation soil survey east of Taber will be carried on. Experiments with commercial fertilizers and crop rotations on the black soil field at Edmonton, and also rotation of clovers, with and without fertilizers, is another important project. The analysis of farm soil samples and advice about fertility is continuing.

FIELD CROP GREENHOUSE

PHARMACY: DR. HUSTON.

The Canadian Formulary is being revised and the School of Pharmacy of the University of Alberta has been assigned the revision of the external preparations. There are many research problems underway, such as the development of a photofluorometric assay method for sex hormones, synthesis of certain compounds related to the carcinogens, and testing them for estrogenic activity, investigations of the action of a number of drugs on nerves and muscles. The School of Pharmacy is cooperating with the Department of Zoology on research aimed at the control of worm infestation of fish.

THE NEW PHARMACY LAB.

ART DIVISION, DEPARTMENT OF FINE ARTS

While the Art Division of the Department of Fine Arts does not undertake a program of research comparable to other departments, because of the nature of the work it does, it does carry on an extensive program in encouraging and assisting community art groups and art schools.

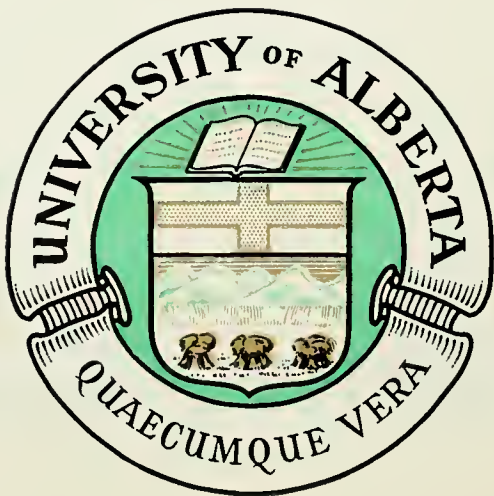

The Department believes that there is a great deal of undeveloped talent in Western Canada, and that an interest in art itself must be developed in the community so as to get support for the important schools of art.

The Big Week Begins

Two Freshettes Talk It Over

Freshie Week Riot of Fun For U Students

Freshman froliced at a tea dance held in their honor at the Education Building Gym Thursday afternoon. More than 600 first year students attired in feathers and loincloths attended the fun-packed afternoon.

Feathers bobbed as the freshies participated in congo lines, square dances, novelty dances and Spike Jones numbers. Prizes were awarded winners of baggy pants' contests and sweater contests.

Big Three in charge of operations were Tom Walsh, chairman of Freshman Introduction Week, Jim Wood and Jim Dier. Refreshments were served by members of the committee in charge which includes Mary Morrison, Barbara Hanford and Max Smith.

Upperclass women returned to the city Wednesday and Thursday to enroll in senior classes at the University of Alberta.

Among Calgarians who recently returned were Catherine Dickie, Doreen Porter, Margaret Kennedy, Joan Arnold, Eleanor MacDonald, Lois Porter, Sue Saucier and Sharon Sprung.

Others returning were Nancy Jean York, Kimberley, B.C., Audrey Patterson, Lethbridge, Shirley Wilson, Norma Ryan, Fincher Creek and Joy Russel, Red Deer.

Freshettes attending the University of Alberta will don blue jeans and plaid shirts for the annual Wauveita hike Friday evening.

The co-eds will meet in the Arts Rotunda at 7 p.m. for the trek to the varsity outdoor cabin. Led by Mary Morrison, Wauveita president, the freshies will learn the songs and cheers of U. of A. and meet members of the Wauveita executive.

Refreshments will be served during the evening. More than 200 students are expected to attend. Mary Morrison is heading the committee in charge of arrangements which includes Kay Tanner, Peggy Kendrick and Dorothy Husband.

Varsity Mixer Dance Last Freshie Party

*1,200 Students to Jam Varsity Rink
For Last Event of Freshman Week*

A mixer dance in the Varsity Rink Saturday evening will ring down the curtain on a week of wonderment for hundreds of freshmen enrolled at the University of Alberta. More than 1,200 students are expected to jam the rink for the closing event of Freshman Introduction Week.

U. of A.'s mixer dance is an institution in itself. It's the yearly gathering where everyone meets everyone else. Acquaintances are renewed, friendships are made. It's the dance to which everyone goes and about which everyone talks for the rest of the term.

Students arrive in pairs, go stag or come in groups of a dozen or more. But upper-classmen advise to go stag for chances of meeting oddies of people are that much greater.

1948 version of the dance will follow an Indian theme. Big Chief Tom Walsh, chairman of the week's activity, will be master-of-ceremonies with prizes galore for winners of novelty dances. A tom-tom trot, tomahawk tango, warrior's waltz will be among the many dances during the three hours of fun.

Freshies and upper-classmen will go on a penitence crawl during intermission for cokes and doughnuts.

Gay, yellow and green feathers and the yellow printed green loin-cloths will be worn for the last time Saturday by members of the freshman class of 1948. After the freshie mixer the distinctive dress of first year students will be packed in moth balls to serve as a reminder of introduction week 1948.

Half an hour of the program will be broadcast over CKUA Saturday when freshies from various points throughout the province will be interviewed. When the clock strikes 12 an hilarious and hectic week will have come to a close, but a week that will be remembered by University of Alberta freshmen for years to come.

Tom Walsh heads the committee in charge of arrangements which includes Jim Dier, Max Smith, Barbara Mansford and Mary Morrison.

Wauneita Squaws Hold Initiations

Oct. 5

By Frances Schroter

Skies at the University were red with the glow of campfires as nearly 100 Wauneita coeds were initiated into the campus tribe Tuesday night.

Freshettes, undergoing the traditional ceremony were introduced to tribal customs by a series of dignified rites.

The initiation was not attended by President Mary Morrison, who was notified Tuesday afternoon of the sudden death of her brother—and left for her home in Salmon Arm, B.C.

Acting Chief Margie Lee took over proceedings for the evening.

Starting at Pem, the initiates followed blanketed seniors to the tune of tom-toms, in a mass exodus towards the Council Chamber of the Wise (the Grid). The parade proceeded in single file to the first of the four campfires where Sophomore Chief Sutermeister presented each brave with a feather, symbol of light-heartedness.

At the two succeeding fires, prospective tribeswomen were given fagots, symbols of toil and invested with the Order of the Blanket by Junior Chief Tanner and Senior Chief Husband.

When the Great Council fire was reached, each Wauneita brave cast her fagot into the flames after being pledged by Great Chief Lee to obey all the tribal laws.

Wauneita Counsellors: Miss M. Simpson, Mrs. H. F. Baker, Mrs. H. T. Sparby and Miss M. Patrick attended.

The evening's ceremonies were officially closed by the singing of the "Ugh."

Library Ceremony Conducted Thursday

Stolen Cornerstone Recovered In Time

Cornerstone of the Rutherford Memorial Library was laid at ceremonies held Thursday afternoon.

Following a brief ceremony in Convocation Hall at 3 p.m., proceedings continued at the north-east corner of the library. Lieut.-Gov. J. C. Bowen officiated at the actual laying, and dedication was pronounced by Dr. Edmund J. Thompson, principal of St. Stephen's College.

For some time Thursday morning University officials feared the ceremony would be delayed by disappearance of the cornerstone. At 12:30 a.m. Thursday The Gateway was informed that a group of "about 15" people had removed the half-ton stone from the library site. Passersby returning to University residences reported seeing the group, believed to be University students, carrying the cornerstone from its resting place, shortly before midnight.

STONE RECOVERED

Extensive search by construction and University officials led to discovery of the heavy granite stone near a fire escape at the rear of St. Steve's College about 9:30 Thursday morning.

Tracks in the snow near the library revealed that the stone was lifted from the ramp at the corner of the building onto a hand sled or small cart. Trail of the cart showed that the heavy load was dragged down 90 avenue to 110 street, then up the lane between 87 and 88 avenues to the rear of St. Steve's College.

Discovery of the cornerstone was made by bursar of the University, J. M. Whidden, and R. B. Jamieson, Superintendent of Works for the library. Stone was restored to corner of the library and preparations for the ceremony were continued.

CEREMONY

Thursday afternoon's ceremony commenced in Con Hall at 3 p.m. with an introduction by President Robert Newton. "The Rutherford Memorial Library will play an important part in scholastic activity on the campus," the president said. "It will be the very heart of the University."

Following the brief address by Dr. Newton, Hon. Ivan Casey, Alberta minister of education, addressed the assembly.

Recalling the early 1900s, the cabinet minister reminded those in attendance of Dr. A. C. Rutherford, for whom the library is named, and who sponsored the bill founding U of A.

by Dr. George F. McNally, Chancellor of the University.

FAR-CRY

At the library site Hon. J. C. Bowen unveiled the cornerstone and officiated in the actual laying. The Lieut.-Gov. told the crowd gathered at the building that the library would be a "symbol to those coming after." It was a far cry, he said, from the 1909 ceremony when they "picked their way through the brush at the first sod turning" to begin construction on the University.

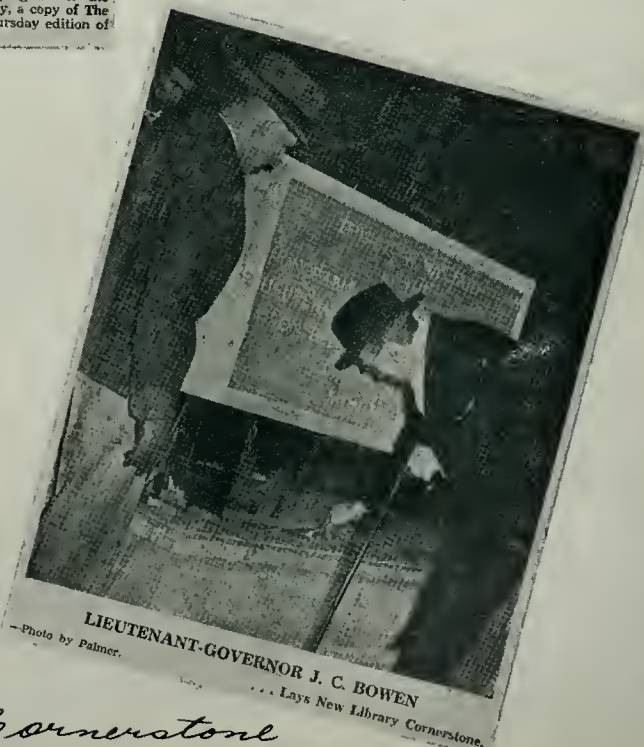

Placed in the cornerstone by the Lieut.-Governor was a bronze cylinder containing a program of the afternoon's ceremony, a copy of The Gateway, and a Thursday edition of a city newspaper.

Bishop Neill Opens Mission

Religion has entered the world in the same way as science. This was the opinion expressed by Bishop Stephen Neill of the Church of England as he spoke before a group of about 300 students on Monday morning in Con Hall. This was the first meeting of the University Christian Mission for 1948. The bishop compared the early discoveries of Christian thought to the early scientific discoveries of the 17th and 18th centuries, and listed the elementary conclusions of Christianity. "These conclusions lead," Bishop Neill stated, "to a belief that God has something to say to us today. By Bishop Neill will take place in Med 142 at 7:30 on Tuesday and Wednesday nights. These lectures will be on "Make Up Your Mind" and "Living as a Christian." Monday evening's lecture was on the topic, "Who Is This Jesus?" The subject of the entire Mission, "God Speaks in 1948," will be completed by the series of lectures. "God is speaking all the time, as long as we have tuned in on the right wave length to hear Him," says Bishop Neill.

Proclamation

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

Fellows, girls and shmooos,
Lend me your ears
I come to give the gals their chance
Not to date them.
The evil that men do lives after them
The good is oft inferred with their eyes
(Don't let it fool you!)

So let it be with she-males. The noble Col. Hawkins
Hath decreed (if it isn't so you can shoot me dead)
That she-shmooos shall have their day.
It has been so, is it a grievous fault?
But eagerly have women exploited it
Here under leave of Hawkins and the best
For Hawkins was an honorable man.
So were they all, all were honorable men
Come I to speak in Hawkins' stead.
For he was a fiend, faithless and unjust to males
When that the males have fled, women have leapt
De-fence should be made of barbed wire!
You all did hear that on last Hawkins Day
One Adonis tackled thrice did thrice succumb
Now let it not be so!
They all did chase them once, not without paw's
What claws withhold you now, she-males from chase
Oh judgment! thou art fled to brutish beasts
And men are now in season. Flee with me
My heart is in my mouth and I must pause till it come back to me.

Further thou shalt take notice

I am the director of Waw-Waw.

- (1) Thou shalt not employ unethical means before me.
- (2) Thou shalt not to thy date disclose thy name
- (3) Honor his father and his mother
- (4) Remember thou be aggressive even unto the end of Waw-Waw
- (5) Thou shalt not maim nor bruise
- (6) Thou shalt not commit thyself unduly
- (7) Thou shalt not make off without thy wallet
- (8) Thou shalt not covet thy girl friend's date
- (9) Thou shalt not run short of nerve (crust that is).
- (10) Oh ye of heavy honor "Don't Stand 'Em Up."

Now, you both know the rules. On with the brass knuckles.
Nab the phone. Come out dating—and let every shmoo be paired.

In witness whereof, I, Les Warden, Minister of Feminine Affairs, have hereunto set my hand and affixed my seal.

LESLIE R. WARDEN.

Signed, published and declared by the aforesaid in the presence of us, all present at the same time, and in his presence and in the presence of each other and who at his request have hereunto subscribed our name.

Co-Eds Plan Turnabout Week-End

Sadie Hawkins of the comic strip would do well to watch University of Alberta co-eds when they celebrate "Waw-Waw Week-end" on the campus Friday, Saturday, and Sunday of this week.

The boys, and the professors too, have been anticipating their invitations for coffee at campus coffee-chops, although the students' council has decreed that this year co-eds may treat their professors only during the last 15 minutes of the 10:00 and 10:00 a.m. lectures Saturday. A stampede is expected at that time, to make up for the popularity of "ruck-dates" with professors in former years, which resulted in nearly all lectures being automatically cancelled.

Friday Tramp will feature Frisco's entertainment, when invite their dates for an and a half ride around the Six chartered trolleys will the corner of 88 ave. and 100 7:30 p.m. each complete with entertainment and confection vendors.

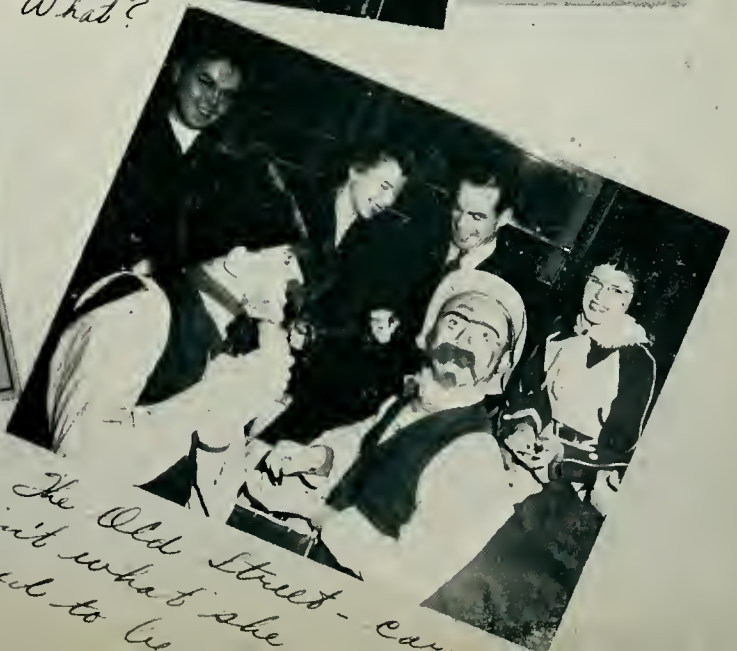

In the evening the students attend a concert in the Education building auditorium, when enablers will include: Mr. Alan Armstrong, Mr. Reginald Wilkes, Miss June Sigsworth, Miss Gladys Ritten-Bell, Mr. William Kelly and the University Law Club. A light-hearted quiz with appropriate prizes will complete the program. The boys will be required to bring the edible portions of the Box Social which follows.

Saturday evening the traditional Sadie Hawkins dance will take place in the drill hall, and the week-end will conclude with Sunday church services for all students at Metropolitan Church and St. Joseph's Chapel.

In charge of Waw-Waw festivities is Mr. Les Warden.

Horses And Artsmen Fail To Abduct Engineers' Queen

A daring attempt by Arts and Science to kidnap the Engineers' Queen on Saturday night just previous to the coronation ceremony proved unsuccessful.

A group of about eight arts students had arranged a supposedly fool-proof scheme to snatch the Queen out from under the eyes of some 400 engineers attending the ball, and make off with her before any pursuit could be organized.

Planting four students inside the Drill Hall, the other conspirators rounded up some mounts and prepared to make their grand entrance through the large south door of the Gym.

Unfortunately, the middle man, who was supplied with an ESS card and tickets to the ball, had acquired the suspicion of some astute engineers earlier in the evening, and was unable to get into the dance.

Although there were still three students who were planning on going ahead with the scheme, no contact could be made, and so the plan had to be abandoned.

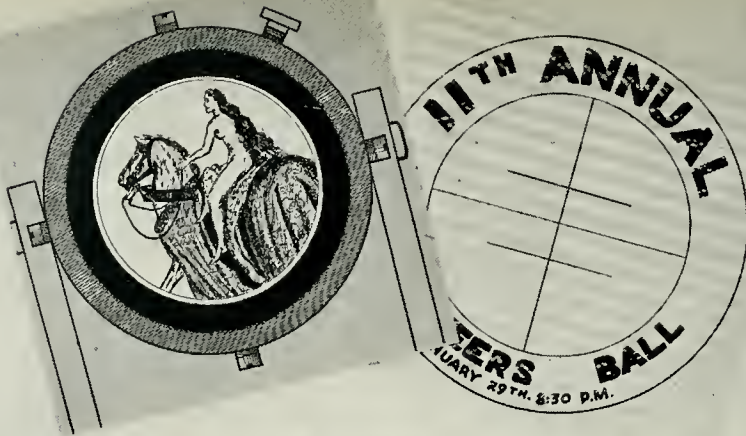

The proposed plan, in brief, was this. Just before the crowning of the Queen the large double doors at the south of the Hall were to be swung open, and Lady Godiva, riding on a snow-white steed, was to enter the hall with an escort of three students, also mounted. (One of the fellows in on the scheme had dressed up as Godiva to attract the attention of the engineers away from the crowning ceremonies.)

The conspirators estimated that about 25% of the engineers would think that this was part of the show.

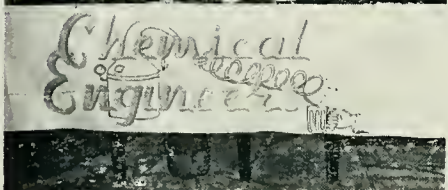

Before any suggestion could be made the horses were to be marched past the crowning platform, where the three students on the inside were to have surrounded the Queen and brought her up to the edge of the platform, presumably to speak to Godiva.

From here it was considered an easy matter to transport her out of the hall and to a waiting car.

Before they returned her to the ball, the Arts and Science men had planned on having a picture of the Queen taken kneeling before the church's great king, recipient of crown and robe.

Part of the Big Crowd

FIVE CAMPUS QUEENS made up this quintet of grace and charm that delighted engineers at the 11th annual ESS ball Saturday night. In voting last Friday, engineers had a hard time making up their minds in choosing their Queen of the Ball (and who could blame them). Four counts were necessary before they could declare first year nurse Stella Hanna (wearing crown) the winner. Behind the queen are Jeanne Rogers and Mary Lou Lester. In front are Irene Glen and Donna Morris. (See story page 4)

For the Farmers of Western Canada...

- BETTER FARMING
- BETTER FARM LIVING
- BETTER FARM INCOME

Many of the 40,000 farmer shareholders and many more customers of the U.G.G. are young men who are just starting to farm in their own right. They realize that their progress in the future depends on farmer unity and co-operation and are working, together with their fellow farmers, to achieve these goals through their own organization . . . Better Buy Butter!

Agriculture is, by far, Alberta's foremost industry—supporting more people—creating new wealth, new business and new jobs in a wide diversity of ways and places within the Province. The DAIRY INDUSTRY is a very important part of Agriculture, particularly in the parklands of Central and Northern Alberta.

When you buy Alberta Dairy Products your food dollar remains here to work over and over again for you and for all of us.

BUTTER is a case in point. Substitutes may cost less to buy, but are not so healthful and wholesome for you and not so cheap in the long look as they may appear. It's "good-bye" to the money you pay for the butter substitutes.

"BETTER BUY BUTTER" and meet your food dollar again

A Business Connection

The student of today is the business man of tomorrow. As such he will in due course require a banking connection, as depositor or borrower, as holder of securities and other documents requiring safe-keeping, as a remitter of funds either in Canada or abroad. An early association, beginning with the opening of a savings account, no matter how modest, can be made the foundation of a lasting bank connection.

Progress...

This powerful, diesel-electric, ice-breaking train ferry keeps communications open between New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island. All the electric propulsion equipment was designed and manufactured by Canadian General Electric.

Many Canadian-built diesel-electric locomotives, for which this Company manufactures the electrical equipment are in service on Canadian railroads and are proving their efficiency and economy in both switching and main line haulage.

Here is the magnet of the 70,000,000 electron-volt-synchrotron installed at Queen's University for the purpose of X-ray and nuclear research. It was built and erected under the supervision of General Electric's nuclear engineers.

The great airliners and jet planes of today and tomorrow rely more and more on G-E aviation equipment. Canadian General Electric supplies electrical systems, instruments and radio equipment to leading aircraft manufacturers.

GENERAL ELECTRIC EQUIPMENT

is making life easier for every Canadian today

The fact that Canadians are the world's largest per capita users of electricity is doing much to shape the pattern of the lives of all of us.

The availability of low-cost electric power is a primary reason for the rapid expansion of our industries. The large use of electricity is responsible for the high individual output of our workers, which results in their greater earning power.

For more than fifty-seven years Canadian General Electric has been privileged to play a leading part in this vast electrical development of our country. By continuing to manufacture electrical equipment on an ever-increasing scale, this Company makes life better, fuller, happier, for every Canadian today by helping to provide more goods for more people at less cost.

OPPORTUNITY KNOCKS...

Everyone likes to hear opportunity knocking at their door. And the city of Calgary is where you'll find lots of opportunities knocking at your door. Abundant supplies of natural gas and power; convenient industrial sites and an abundance of recreational facilities truly makes Calgary the city where opportunity knocks . . . for YOU.

Calgary! The "Oil Capital of Canada." Eighty percent of the oil companies presently tapping Alberta's fabulous oil resources, make their headquarters in Calgary. Limitless streams of black gold, pouring its wealth into Calgary, making it the most prosperous city in the entire Dominion of Canada. And this vast wealth has hardly been touched as yet. Yes, opportunity knocks loud and long at your door, in Calgary.

Calgarians live in the midst of boundless wealth and limitless opportunities. We want you to share this wealth with us. Many other Canadians have made the same choice and have never regretted it. We invite you to visit Calgary, the city of opportunity, the metropolis of the future.

More Bread for the World

THE self-propelled Combine shown above, first introduced by Massey-Harris in 1939, enables one man in one day to cut and thresh enough wheat for 55,000 loaves of bread!

That is just one typical instance of the way in which modern farm machinery has stepped up the farmer's efficiency and production.

The number of Canadian farmers has increased by only two-thirds since 1900. Yet, thanks to the combination of production-building machinery and their own hard work, Canada's farmers are now growing $4\frac{1}{2}$ times as much grain as they did then . . . producing $2\frac{1}{2}$ times as much milk . . . feeding twice as many cattle and $2\frac{1}{2}$ times as many hogs . . . and raising 5 times as many chickens! They are providing food for $2\frac{1}{2}$ times as many people in Canada — and exporting 30 times as much wheat and 10 times as much flour.

The working day on the farm is still a long one, and the tasks still demand strong arms, strong backs and a determined will. But with Massey-Harris machines, the farmer finds it easier than before to win a good living for his family, and to bring to his farm home many of the conveniences, comforts and luxuries formerly enjoyed only by city folks.

INDUSTRY AND EDUCATION

In the course of developing and manufacturing its many products, Westinghouse assembles a wealth of electrical engineering data of value to students and instructors engaged in electrical studies.

Through the Westinghouse School Service Department practical, up-to-date booklets and pamphlets are distributed frequently to scores of Canadian libraries. Universities, technical schools and libraries are advised of new engineering data available for instruction and reference purposes.

Film showings on educational and industrial subjects are arranged in schools and universities. In addition, many hundreds of requests for information from students and teachers are carefully attended to by the Westinghouse School Service Department.

For information relating to your electrical studies you are invited to write: School Service Department, Canadian Westinghouse Company, Limited, Hamilton, Ontario.

City of Medicine Hat

Most of us have to plan for the good things of life.

And a big part of that planning is a matter of dollars and cents—of earmarking a certain part of our earnings for the things we want most. It's not always easy, especially these days.

But the fact remains that what you save is still the most important—the most satisfying—part of what you earn. Are you hoping for something . . . or saving for it?

ALBERTA has vision to match her resources

Industry in the Province of Alberta functions under the principles of free enterprise. It is the belief of the Government of Alberta that the function of Government is to serve private rights—not to absorb them. The community of economic interests that must be shared by management and workers of industry is recognized. The practical application of common sense legislation has long been in effect in Alberta. The results have been beneficial to the national economy, for this province has enjoyed the minimum of industrial disputes through the application of sensible laws, fair and equitable to all. Alberta wants business and businessmen to establish within the Province. You will not find regimentation or state domination. Social services are progressive. Alberta is following a policy to ensure the orderly development of her vast and valuable resources through free and competitive enterprise. Alberta has vision to match her resources.
